BLOODY TRAGEDY.

WILDSOONALS.

we Nephews of General Pillow Murdered-they are set Upon by Masked Sen and Rid-died by Builets. The Nashville American, of Jan. 15, has the

It becomes our painful duty to chronicle another one of those chilling horrors and deeds of blood resulting in the taking of human life, and the bereaving of friends and home, which have been but too common in some portions of our State and upon our border for two or three years past. In this instance it was a double tracedy, cuacted, it would appear, with already pears past. In this instance it was a double tragedy, enacted, it would appear, with atroclous premeditation and deliberate purpose. By the outrage two gentlemen of high standing, of extended and influential connection, of chivalrous and manly courage, have been deprived of life, and their souls, without a moment's premonition, sent to the presence of their God. The scene of the tragedy is near Leighton, between Courtland and Tuscumbia, in North Alabama, and the names of the parties thus suddenly deprived of life were Granville and William Pillow, sons of the late Major G. A. Pillow, of Maury county, and nephews of Major-General Gideon J. Pillow. They had many relatives in this section, and were well known both here and in counties adjoining. The particulars of the affair, so far as we have been able to learn them, are about these;— are about these;— Late in the evening of Sunday two men. masked and in disguise, rode up to the house of Granville Pillow, at the locality indicated, and called him to the door. On reaching the door, one of the masqueraders of death drew his pistol and fired, the ball striking his victim in a vital part. The wounded man fell bleeding from the wound. William Pillow, a brother of Gran ville, rushed to the door on hearing the firing. 1.) ville, rushed to the door on hearing the firing. to the rescue of his brother. No sooner had he made his appearance than the disguised flend commenced firing at him also. He was soon prostrated by their fatal balls. They then took William a short distance from the house, and in a species of sink left him dying, riddled with balls. Thinking that Granville, the eldo brother, might not be quite dead, they then re turned to the house, and driving the lumates away, made sure of their bloody work by firing additional balls into the body of their victim Assuring themselves that he was dead, they lof

the premises, and up to the date of our latest the premises, and up to the date of our information no clue as to who the perpetrators were or as to their whereabouts had been dis-

The two men were closely masked and otherwise disguised. The supposition that the perpetrators may have been negroes is somewhat strengthened from the fact that some negroes, some years since, had quite a serious difficulty with one of the Messrs. Pillow, since which time an old spite has existed, and threats against them have been freely indulged in.

THE TELEGRAPHERS.

Failure of the Strike-The Operators Return-ing to Work.

The New York Herald to-day says:—

In spite of the unfavorable weather yesterday there was, as usual, a large attendance at the strikers' meeting, held about 1 o'clock, at No. 270 Grand street. Mr. Hutchison took the chair, and after calling the meeting to order read seve-ral encouraging despatches from Louisville, Pitteburg, Chicago, Washington, and Baltimore. It seems in the latter place all the operators re-turned to work last Faturday, but struck again on Sunday, leaving but two men at the "keys." In Boston twelve of those, who returned to the company last week, have again 'come out,' and this time, according to their own statement, "to stay until the whole thing is settled one way or another." The whole South, it seems, still

There is no use in disguising the fact that in There is no use in disguising the fact that in this city the strike is virtually at an end. Since last Friday a large number of the League have either gone back to work or have made application to the company to do so. Most of these men who are now so and lous to get back were, of all the League, the loudest and most venomous in their denunciations of this monopoly up to the very day of their desortion of their brothers. Traitors in their midst is what has killed the League in this city. The proceedings of every secret meeting held by the organization has been reported by some of their own memhas been reported by some of their own mem-bers directly to the Western Union Company.

The future for the operators is indeed dark.

If they have been badly treated and misused heretofore, they may be expect to be treated badly in the future, and those men who have so ignominiously deserted their brethren just as victory was about to perch upon their banners deserve all they are likely as the company. ners deserve all they are likely to get in that

Most of those who are still out are resolute, and seem determined to "stick" as long as there is the left. Many of them declare that they will never work another day for the Western Union Company under any circumstances, pro-ferring rather to adopt some other vocation than to again be subjected to the insulting and de-grading regulations and exactions of that com-

The Nineteen Million Dollar Helress Pleasant News for Ravious People. Mr. Archibald, British Consul at New York, has published a card in which he says: -

has published a card in which he says:

My attention has been called to a paragraph in the Troy Times of the 15th instant, entitled "A Nineteen Million Heiress," in which it is stated that Miss Gray, a Fort Edward milliner, had become the fortunate heiress of $19,000,000 of which she had received an installment of $5,000,000 from the British Consul in New York, and that "on Tuesday last she received a despatch from the Consul announcing that the money awalted her order, and on the following day she left Fort Edward for New York, where it was paid over to her." it was paid over to her.'

It was paid over to her."

The statement that Miss Gray received any such despatch from me, and that she subsequently received from me the sum of money in question, is a pure fabrication. I have neither received from Miss Gray nor have I paid to her any money whatever; and I may add that I have no knowledge of any money having been left to her in England. From circumstances which have lately been brought to my notice, I have reason to fear that the publication of this story may be made the means of defrauding unsustanting persons. I ecting persons.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The Gulton Troupe at the Chesnat. Miss Susan Galton and her troupe were warmly creeted by a large audience last evening at the Chesnut, and it was evident that they have lost one of their popularity during their absence. The erformance commenced with an amusing tride consisted Terrible Hymen, which was performed in a very oreditable manner by Mr. Whiten and Miss he Galton. Mr. Whiffen is certainly a comedian of more than usual ability, and he knows how to my to the surface all the fun that there is in such a bit of nonzense as Terrible Hymen.

The Prime Donna of a Night, which introduced the The Prime Donna of a Night, which introduced the fair Susan, is scarcely more pretentious than the piece that preceded it. It is entirely farcical in character, and the principal object of the whole affair appears to be to give the prime donna an opportunity to sing some operatic selections. Offenbach's contributions to the musical score are marked by all the animation and vivacity of his igh the piece cannot be set down as one of his best by any means. It afforded opportunities however, for some good comic acting, and as the lead ing parts were very well austained, it made a very asing entertainment. Miss Susan Galton is as arming as ever, and her reception last sing was as cordial as she could wish. She sang and acted with a great deal of grace and spirit, especially in an air from Linds di Chamounis which she introduced. This was encored, and then Miss Susan set the hearts of all the young men in the audience to palpitating fiercely by giving "Coming Thro' the Rye" in that heavillaring a feasile atternation. Ryo" in that bewilderingly fascinating manner for which she is famous. Mr. Kelleher has improved idedly, both as a singer and an actor, since he was in this city last, and he is now a very efficient nember of the troupe. Mr. Whiten gave a lie piece of comic acting in the part of "Mont. Chofucuri," and Mrs. Galton was an amusing representative of "Madame Balandard." The other parts were creditably sustained, and the performance passed off in the most satisfactory manner.

THE ITALIAN OFFICA. The last performance of the season will be given this ovening, when Miss Kellogg will appear in the first act of Traviate, the third act of Fasset, and the third act of Sonnam-Signor BLITZ and his son will execute a number of wonderful feats of magic at the Assembly Building this evening. A matinee to-morrow.

Fredericksburg and Gordonsville Railroad Company of Virginia.

Principal and Interest Payable in Coin, Free of United States Government Tax.

These Bonds are recured by a First and only Mortgage

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York, as Trustees for the Bondholders.

The Mortgage covers the entire road, Right of Way Pranchises, Reiling Stock, Equipments, Lands and Property, real and personal, now belonging or which may reafter belong to the Company. A SINKING FUND ts also provided, which will reduce the principal of the debt TWO THIRDS of the entire amount in advance of he maturity of the Bonde,

The Road is 60 miles long, connecting Fredericksburg via Orange Court House, with Charlottesville, which is the point of junction of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to the Ohio siver, and the extension of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad to Lynchburg. It forms the shortest connecting link in the system of reads leading to the entire South, Southwest and West to the Pacific Ocean. It passes through a rich section of the Shenas doah Valley, the local traffic of which alone will support the Road, and it must command an abundant share of through trade from the fact of its being a SHORT CUT TO TIDE WATER ON THE POTO-MAC AT THE FARTHEST INLAND POINT WHERE DEEP WATER FOR HEAVY SHIPPING CAN BE FOUND ON THE WHOLE LENGTH OF THE ATLANTIC COAST.

From Charlottesville to Tidewater by this route the distance is 40 miles less than via Alexandria; 65 miles less than via Richmond and West Point; 124 miles less than via Norfolk. A limited amount of these bonds are offered at Pak, and interest from November 4, in currency.

From an examination in person, and also by competent counsel, of all the papers and documents relating to this oan, we are enabled to pronounce them entirely correct and satisfactory; we have also had the work and property of the company examined by our own agents, whose reports agree with those made by the officers of the company, and we therefore recommend these bonds, the issue of which is limited to $15,000 per mile of complete and equipped road, AN A FIRST-CLASS SECURITY IN EVERY PARTICULAR, and as a most desirable investment, giving a large increase of income over investment in any description of Government bonds.
